

Five Easy Steps to Understanding Your Annual Property Value Assessment Notice

1 Make sure your account information is accurate. Check the property address, the owner name(s), and notify the Assessor's office online of any inaccuracies.

2 This notice tells you if your assessed property value has changed. The value may increase or decrease due to current real estate market trends or based on changes you made to your property.

3 Make sure all exemptions or freezes are properly applied. If you believe you are eligible for exemptions that are not listed, visit your local Assessor's Office to qualify for applicable tax reduction programs.

4 This is not a tax bill. This is a notice showing what your local Assessor believes the property is worth. However, it is this value of the property upon which the City's tax collector will issue annual property tax bills.

5 The notice explains what you can do if you disagree with the property's assessed value. You can meet with a representative of the Assessor's Office between July 17th and August 15th, or you can formally file an appeal with the Board of Review to the Assessor's Office in person, by mail, or online by August 18th.
